

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

Joe Whitmore

Joe Whitmore with his wife, Janet and his son, Jacob.

Joe Whitmore is a native of Oxford, Ala. and graduated from Oxford High School in 1979. He then attended Jacksonville State University, where he received his degree in Finance and later his Master's in Business Administration.

Joe is in his 19th year with JSU where he is the Director of Institutional Support Services. His office handles all the auxiliary contracts for the university, such as, the bookstore, mail center, and The Gamecock Express, the bus system at JSU.

He stays involved with the Chamber through his work with the Leadership Calhoun County program, where he is the Day Chair for the K-12 Education Day each year.

"I graduated from LCC in 1992, and even though I have lived in this County my entire life, I still learned so much through this program," said Joe. "I believe in the benefits of this program and I want to do my part in helping other LCC participants gain the same wonderful experience that I had in LCC."

Joe is a man that wears many hats; he is heavily involved with the United Way of East Central Alabama through his efforts as Chairman of the Board. Also, he and his family are very active in their church, Eagle Point Church of Jacksonville.

Outside of his work, Joe can be found spending time with his wife, who also works at JSU, supporting his son at various Jacksonville High School sporting events, or trying to shoot under par at a local golf course.

Thanks Joe for all you do at the Chamber and for our community!

Medders Auto Core Supply, Inc. (MACS) purchases auto parts from salvage yards, auto mechanics, recycling facilities, and the public to sell to rebuilders. We decan catalytic converters, which allow us to pay the best possible prices for these units. We also recycle metals including everything from used beverage cans to automobiles.

MACS joined the Calhoun County Chamber of Commerce for additional exposure and community involvement.

LCC

Leadership Calhoun County had their K-12 Education Day on November 17, 2011. The group experienced a Superintendent of Calhoun County panel discussion, tours of various schools in the County and a student panel discussion.

One LCC group received a tour of Piedmont's new sport facilities by Mr. Snow, principal, and Matt Akin, Superintendent of Piedmont City Schools.

Mr. Johnny Byrd, Chief Professional Officer of the Boys & Girls Club in Anniston, got his groove on with the students of Kitty Stone Elementary during their dance performance for the LCC tour group.

Another LCC group received a tour from Mrs. McCants, principal of Cobb Elementary in Anniston.
